Introducing Lexis Advance® Hong Kong

LexisNexis has been a leading provider of local Hong Kong legal content for over 20 years, building on a heritage of legal publishing excellence that has spanned globally over 200 years. We continue to build upon this heritage with our brand-new flagship online platform Lexis Advance® Hong Kong, which integrates research-based content and workflow-based content into one platform for seamless access.

► Lexis Advance® Hong Kong Research is one of the largest database of local and international legal content designed for extensive legal research. It houses all relevant primary law from cases to legislation, as well as our most esteemed commentary titles that are continually revised by trusted experts in line with the latest developments.

► Lexis Advance® Hong Kong Practical Guidance is our workflow solution providing you with a wide range of unique practical materials built around a Hong Kong practitioner's workflow. Made in Hong Kong, for Hong Kong, our service contains exclusively written content by trusted legal experts. Each module, organised by practice area, includes practice notes, precedents with drafting notes, checklists and flowcharts to accelerate your drafting process.
